DAVID KAVAL

President

@DaveKaval DaveKaval

On Nov. 17, 2016, David Kaval was named the seventh president in the history of the Oakland Athletics.

In his eight seasons, Kaval has played a key role in guiding the organization through a transformative journey. He introduced various fan experience initiatives and ticket programs, hosted MLB's first completely free game, and attracted the largest crowd in Oakland Coliseum history with 56,310 fans attending the game against the San Francisco Giants on July 21, 2018. Additionally, he initiated programs to honor the team's history, such as naming the playing surface at the Coliseum Rickey Henderson Field; establishing the Athletics Hall of Fame; retiring Oakland native Dave Stewart's number; and appointing Henderson, Stewart, Rollie Fingers, and Dennis Eckersley as special assistants.

Currently, Kaval leads the Club's efforts to construct a new ballpark for the Athletics. Over six years, the Club invested unprecedented time and resources to develop a waterfront ballpark in Oakland. In 2021, MLB instructed the A's to explore Las Vegas while still pursuing a ballpark in Oakland. In June 2023, the Nevada Governor signed SB 1, the A's public-private partnership bill supporting the proposed ballpark in Las Vegas. Alongside the legislation, the A's entered an agreement to build a ballpark on the Tropicana site. In November 2023, MLB approved the A's relocation to Las Vegas, and the Club is set to open their new Las Vegas ballpark in 2028.

Kaval previously served as the president of the San Jose Earthquakes of Major League Soccer. He oversaw the business and soccer sides of the franchise and represented the club on the Major League Soccer Board of Governors. He continues to serve as a Board Member of the San Jose Earthquakes.

During his time with the Quakes, the team won the 2012 Supporters' Shield, which is awarded to the MLS team with the best regular season record. His success with the team culminated in the opening of Avaya Stadium – the Quakes' $100M privately financed soccer stadium – on March 22, 2015. Kaval developed the innovative $20M naming rights partnership with Avaya, which helped create the first cloud-enabled stadium. The Guinness World Record groundbreaking ceremony occurred on October 21, 2012, with 6,256 participants on hand digging into the ground. Since opening its gates, Avaya Stadium (now Paypal Park) has held numerous events, including the 2016 MLS All-Star Game and World Cup Qualifiers. The 18,000-seat venue also houses the largest outdoor bar in North America and is now home to Bay FC of the NWSL.

Prior to joining the Earthquakes, Kaval founded the independent Golden Baseball League (GBL) in 2003. Memorable GBL alumni include Hall of Famer Rickey Henderson, Jose Canseco, Daniel Nava, Jose Lima, and Mark Prior. Kaval has also spent time in the Office of the President of the United States in Washington, D.C., where he worked on the National Security budget as part of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

He serves on a number of boards, including the Bay Area Council, the National Governing Board of the Positive Coaching Alliance (PCA) and the Young Presidents' Organization (YPO).

In 2000, Kaval co-authored a book entitled "The Summer that Saved Baseball," which highlights a tour of all 30 Major League Baseball stadiums in the summer of 1998. He is also a lecturer in management at the Stanford Graduate School of Business (GSB) where he's taught sports management for over a decade.

A native of Cleveland, Ohio, Kaval earned a B.A. with honors in International Relations and an M.B.A. from Stanford University.

Senior Advisor to the Managing Partner

Billy Beane enters his second season as Senior Advisor to the Managing Partner after running the Club's baseball operations since 1997. He spent 18 seasons as General Manager followed by a seven-year stint as Executive Vice President of Baseball Operations.

Under his watch, the A's compiled a 2072-1874 (.525) record over the last 25 years including seven American League West titles (2000; 2002-03; 2006; 2012-13, 2020) and four AL Wild Card spots (2001; 2014; 2018; 2019).

Beane received MLB's inaugural Executive of the Year award in 2018 and was named Major League Executive of the Year by Baseball America two times (2002; 2013) and The Sporting News Executive of the Year three times (1999; 2012; 2018). He also earned MLB.com's Greatness in Baseball Yearly (GIBBY) Award as the 2012 MLB Executive of the Year and the 2012 Legacy Awards' Rube Foster Award as AL Executive of the Year, presented by the Negro League Baseball Museum.

A native of San Diego, Calif., Beane attended Mt. Carmel High School and UC San Diego, where he studied economics. Billy and his wife, Tara, reside in Danville, Calif., with their twins, Brayden and Tinsley. His daughter, Casey, is a graduate of Kenyon (Ohio) College.

RICKEY HENDERSON

Special Assistant to the President

Rickey Henderson enters his seventh season as Special Assistant to the President. In this role, Henderson assists A's President Dave Kaval in promoting the Oakland Athletics brand, in addition to continuing his duties as a roving on-field instructor.

During Henderson's 25-year Hall-of-Fame playing career, he spent 14 seasons with the Green and Gold. Henderson made 10 All-Star teams, won two World Series championships, one AL MVP (1990), one Gold Glove Award (1981), three Silver Slugger awards (1981, 1985, 1990) and one ALCS MVP Award (1989). He holds the record for most career stolen bases (1,406), runs scored (2,295) and lead-off home runs (81), as well as the single-season stolen base record (130, 1982). For his career, Henderson hit .279 with 3,055 hits, 297 home runs, 1,115 RBI, 1,406 stolen bases and 2,295 runs scored. In 2009, he was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame on the first ballot with 94.8% of the vote.

The 2024 season is the seventh anniversary of the Oakland A's naming the playing surface at the Coliseum after Henderson. It was christened Rickey Henderson Field on Opening Day in 2017.

Following his playing career, Henderson joined the New York Mets as a special instructor in 2006 before being promoted to first base coach in 2007.

MARK KOTSAY 7

MANAGER

Mark Steven Kotsay

Named A's manager, December 21, 2021

Birthdate: December 2, 1975

Birthplace/Resides: Whittier, California / Rancho Sante Fe, California

Contract Status: Signed through 2025

Mark Kotsay begins his third season as manager of the Oakland A's in 2023 after signing a three-year contract through the 2024 season with a club option for 2025 on Dec. 21, 2021. The A's exercised the option for 2025 on Nov. 7, 2023. He becomes just the sixth person to manage the A's over the last 37 years, joining Tony La Russa (1986-95), Art Howe (1996-2002), Ken Macha (2003-06), Bob Geren (2007-11) and Bob Melvin (2011-21). Kotsay is the 19th manager in Oakland history and the 31st in Athletics history.

Kotsay has compiled a 110-214 record in two seasons at the helm of the A's, during which the A's have employed 104 different players. The club has used the first and second most players in Athletics history during his tenure (64 in 2022, 62 in 2023) and the first and second most rookies in Oakland history (34 in 2022, 22 in 2023). The A's set a franchise record with 41 pitchers in 2023, including a Major League record tying 24 starting pitchers.

Prior to being named Manager, Kotsay spent six seasons on the A's coaching staff. He joined the club as bench coach in 2016 and filled that role until taking a leave of absence June 19, 2017. Kotsay served as the A's quality control coach from 2018-20 and moved into the third base coaching box for the 2021 season. He made his professional coaching debut as the San Diego Padres hitting coach in 2015. Kotsay joins Jeff Newman, who was interim manager in 1986 between Jackie Moore and Tony La Russa, as the only managers in Oakland history with no previous managerial experience.

Kotsay played 17 seasons in the Major Leagues from 1997-2013, including a four-year stint with Oakland from 2004-07. He was acquired from San Diego following the 2003 season for Ramón Hernández and Terrence Long and went on to hit .282 in 472 games with the A's. He split his final season between California and New York in 1996, ending his career as a member of the World Series Champion Yankees.

A third-team All-American his senior season at Stanford, Aldrete was chosen by San Francisco in the seventh round of the June Draft in 1983. He enjoyed a pair of trips to the College World Series with the Cardinal and was a member of the U.S. Collegiate All-Star team that toured Japan in 1982. Aldrete graduated from Monterey (Calif.) High School, lettering in baseball, basketball and football.

DESIGNATED HITTER RULE

A hitter may be designated to bat for the starting pitcher and all subsequent pitchers without otherwise affecting the status of the pitcher(s) in the game. A designated hitter must be selected prior to the game and must be included on the lineup cards presented to the umpire-in-chief. The DH must come to bat at least one time, unless the opposing Club changes pitchers. The DH is "locked" into the batting order but may be removed for a pinch-hitter or pinch-runner, who in turn becomes the DH. The DH may be used defensively but the pitcher then assumes the batting order of the replaced defensive player. The DH role is terminated if a pitcher switches from the mound to a postion on defense, a pinch hitter enters the game to pitch, the pitcher bats or runs for the DH, the DH assumes a postion on defense or a player on defense enters the game to pitch. A player listed on the lineup card as both a starting pitcher and DH can continue to bat if he is replaced as the pitcher or continue to pitch if he is replaced as the DH.

2024 OAKLAND A'S MEDIA GUIDE PREVIEW

HISTORY

ATHLETICS HISTORY

From its beginnings in Philadelphia to its current version in Oakland, the Athletics franchise has been one of the most storied in Major League history. The A's have won nine World Championships, 15 Pennants and 17 Division Titles in 123 years in the American League. Only the New York Yankees (27) and St. Louis Cardinals (11) have won more World Series and only the Yankees (40) have more American League Pennants.

The A's were one of the eight original AL franchises when the league was born in 1901. Connie Mack was named manager of the Philadelphia entry and would guide the A's for 50 years, winning five World Championships and 3,582 games. The Hall of Famer was also an owner of the club for all 54 years in Philadelphia.

Under Mack's leadership, the A's would win six of the first 14 AL Pennants, including World Series titles in 1910, 11 and 13. The first dynasty featured the "$100,000 infield" of Stuffy McInnis, Eddie Collins, Jack Barry and Frank "Home Run" Baker as well as Hall of Fame pitchers Chief Bender, Eddie Plank and Rube Waddell. Waddell led the AL in strikeouts each year from 1902-07 and Baker earned the "Home Run" nickname by topping the AL in round trippers from 1911-14, with 11, 10, 12 and nine.

The A's won 99 games in 1914 but dropped off to 43 wins in 1915 as the club sold off many of its star players, a pattern that would continue throughout the history of the franchise. The A's had seven straight last place finishes through 1921, but a second dynasty was on the horizon.

Mack again began to assemble Hall of Fame talent in the mid-20's, putting together one of the most feared batting orders in baseball history with catcher Mickey Cochrane, first baseman Jimmie Foxx and outfielder Al Simmons. Add in another Hall of Famer on the mound in Lefty Grove and the A's would win 100 games in three straight seasons, including back-to-back World Championships in 1929 and 30.

The A's won their ninth AL Pennant with a 107-win season in 1931 as Grove won AL Most Valuable Player honors. Foxx won back-to-back MVPs in 1932 and 1933, setting franchise records for home runs (58) and RBI (169) in 1932. However, economics again led Mack to sell or trade his best players. The club would post 13 consecutive losing seasons from 1934-46 and would finish no higher than fourth place in the final 21 years in Philadelphia.

Connie Mack managed his final season in 1950 at the age of 87 and the Mack family sold the club to Arnold Johnson, who moved the A's to Kansas City in 1955.

The A's finished in sixth place in their first season in Kansas City, but that would be their highest finish in the midwest, which featured 13 losing seasons. The club again began to develop talent, but most, including the likes of Roger Maris and 1952 AL MVP Bobby Shantz, would end up being traded to the Yankees. Following the death of Johnson in 1960, the A's were sold to Charlie Finley.

Finley began assembling another talented group of A's players, signing Jim "Catfish" Hunter, Rollie Fingers, Bert Campaneris and Joe Rudi and drafting Reggie Jackson, Sal Bando and Vida Blue. While most of these players had limited time with the Kansas City A's, they would form the nucleus of the next A's dynasty.

The A's moved to Oakland in 1968 and won 82 games that year for their first winning season in 16 years. After back-to-back second place finishes in 1969 and '70, the A's won five straight American League West titles from 1971-75. Anchored by Hall of Famers Hunter, Fingers and Jackson, the A's won three straight World Championships from 1972-74.

Although the A's won 98 games in 1975, the third Athletics dynasty was already coming to an end with the departure of Hunter via free agency prior to the season. The rest of the players would be traded in the next two years and the A's lost 108 games in 1979. However, that year saw the debut of the next A's superstar, Rickey Henderson.

Billy Martin was hired to manage the A's in 1980 and Henderson flourished under Martin, stealing 100 bases that year and a record 130 in 1982. Finley sold the A's to Haas Family following the 1980 season and BillyBall, featuring Henderson on the bases and starting pitchers going the distance, was born. The A's won the West in the strike-shortened 1981 season but would face a seven-year drought before returning to the postseason.

The turnaround began in 1986 with the hiring of Tony La Russa as manager and the signing of Dave Stewart as a free agent. A trade for future Hall of Famer Dennis Eckersley in 1987 led the to the emergence of the modern day closer, and three straight rookies of the year in Jose Canseco (1986), Mark McGwire (1987) and Walt Weiss (1988) gave the A's the ingredients for a run of four AL West Championships in five years from 1988-92.

Oakland made three straight World Series appearances from 1988-90, including a sweep of the cross-bay rival San Francisco Giants in 1989 that was buoyed by the return of Henderson to Oakland. Two years later on May 1, 1991, Henderson would break Lou Brock's Major League stolen base record with his 939th steal.

The A's had MVPs in 1988 (Canseco), 1990 (Henderson) and 1992 (Eckersley) and Cy Youngs in Bob Welch (1990) and Eckersley (1992), but this time it was age that ended the A's run.

The Moneyball teams of the early 2000's featuring the Big Three of Tim Hudson, Mark Mulder and 2002 Cy Young winner Barry Zito, and the offensive power of 2000 MVP Jason Giambi, 2002 MVP Miguel Tejada and Gold Glover Eric Chavez, made four straight postseason appearances from 2000-03 and another in 2006. The 2002 club set a then-AL record with a 20-game winning streak, capped off by a Scott Hatteberg pinch hit home run.

Bob Melvin was hired as manager in 2011 and under his guidance, the A's made six postseason appearances over a nine-year span from 2012-20. The run began with two AL West titles and a Wild Card from 2012-14 and two Wild Cards and an AL West title from 2018-20. In between, the A's completely rebuilt, with only Brett Anderson and Jed Lowrie playing in each three-year stretch.

ATHLETICS HALL OF FAMERS

Frank "Home Run" Baker
Philadelphia A's 1908-14
Inducted Aug. 22, 2021

Frank "Home Run" Baker led the American League in home runs from 1911-13 and tied for the lead in 1914, but earned his nickname by hitting two home runs in the 1911 World Series against the Giants, the second of three World Champion A's teams that featured Baker as the A's third baseman. A member of the A's famed $100,000 infield, Baker led the league in triples in his rookie season of 1909 and topped the AL in RBI from 1912-13.

Sal Bando
Kansas City A's 1966-67;
Oakland A's 1968-76
Inducted Aug. 7, 2022

"Captain Sal" was the leader that held the A's together in the early 70's when Oakland won five straight American League West titles and three consecutive World Series. Bando finished in the top four in Most Valuable Player voting three times and was a four-time All-Star. His durability put him atop the AL leaderboard in games played four times and although he never led the league in any other major category, his 33.0 WAR from 1969-73 was the best in baseball.

Charles "Chief" Bender
Philadelphia A's 1903-14
Inducted Aug. 22, 2021

Charles "Chief" Bender was a Native American who pitched in five World Series for the A's. He had his finest season in 1910 when he authored a no-hitter while compiling a 23-5 record and a 1.58 ERA before helping the A's to their first World Championship. Bender, who was Connie Mack's choice "if there was one game I wanted to win above all others" won five of his seven World Series starts in 1910, 11 and 13 to lead the A's to their first three World Championships.

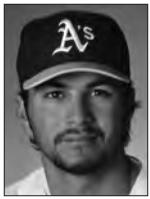

Vida Blue
Oakland A's 1969-77
Inducted Sept. 21, 2019

Vida Blue made his Major League debut in 1969 eight days before his 20th birthday, tossed a no-hitter in 1970, and then burst onto the national scene in 1971 when he won both the American League Cy Young Award and Most Valuable Player Award after compiling a 24-8 record, a league-leading 1.82 ERA and 301 strikeouts. Blue started two All-Star Games for the AL in 1971 and 1975, and in between pitched for the A's three consecutive World Champions.

Bert Campaneris
Kansas City A's 1964-67;
Oakland A's 1968-76
Inducted Sept. 21, 2019

When you trace the roots of the A's three straight World Championships from 1972 to 1974, it all began on April 25, 1961, when the Kansas City A's signed a 19-year-old Cuban named Dagoberto Campaneris. "Campy" played 13 seasons for the A's and was a six-time All-Star. He stole 649 bases in his career and led the American League in steals six times. Campaneris homered twice in his debut and famously played all nine positions in a nine-inning game on Sept. 8, 1965.

Eric Chavez
Oakland A's 1998-2010
Inducted Aug. 7, 2022

Eric Chavez was a mainstay of the third era of great Oakland teams that won four American League West titles and made five playoff appearances from 2000-06. He won six straight Gold Gloves at third base from 2001-06, hit 20 or more home runs in seven straight seasons from 2000-06 and drove in 100 runs four times. Much like the A's teams of his era, Chavez excelled in the second half of the season and retired as the best player in Oakland history never named to an All-Star Team.

Gordon "Mickey" Cochrane
Philadelphia A's 1925-33
Inducted Aug. 22, 2021

One of baseball's greatest catchers, Mickey Cochrane was the backstop for the A's three consecutive American League Pennant winning teams from 1929-31. He was named AL MVP in 1928 and homered twice in the 1930 World Series as the A's won their second straight World Championship. Cochrane had a .321 batting average in nine seasons with the A's and also had a .419 on-base percentage nearly 70 years before it gained mainstream acceptance.

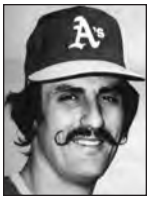

Eddie Collins
Philadelphia A's 1906-14; 27-30
Inducted Aug. 22, 2021

The first Athletic to be elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame, Eddie Collins batted .337 and stole 373 bases in 13 seasons over two stints with the A's. He finished in the top six in Chalmer's Award Voting, a precursor to the MVP, in four straight seasons from 1911-14 and won the award in 1914. He hit .429 in the 1910 World Series to start the A's championship run of three Series titles in four years. The second baseman led the AL in steals in 1910 and runs from 1912-14.

Dennis Eckersley
Oakland A's 1987-95
Inducted Sept. 5, 2018

When Dennis Eckersley was traded to the A's in April of 1987, he had a successful 12-year career as a starting pitcher. By the time his nine seasons in Oakland concluded, he redefined the role of closer, saving an Athletics record 320 games. Born in Oakland and raised in Fremont, he was the AL MVP and Cy Young winner in 1992. Eckersley was a four-time All-Star with Oakland and was a member of the A's World Champions in 1989.

Rollie Fingers
Oakland A's 1968-76
Inducted Sept. 5, 2018

Rollie Fingers made his ML debut with Oakland in 1968 and was used both as a starter and reliever over his first four seasons. He moved to the bullpen full time in 1972, when the A's began their run of three consecutive World Championships. Fingers spent the first nine seasons of his 17-year Hall of Fame career with Oakland. The mustachioed right-hander was a four-time All-Star with the A's and earned 1974 World Series MVP honors.

Charlie Finley
Kansas City A's 1961-67;
Oakland A's 1968-80
Inducted Sept. 5, 2018

After purchasing the Kansas City A's following the 1960 season, Charlie Finley moved the club to Oakland in 1968 where the team he assembled would win three consecutive World Championships from 1972-74. He would be remembered as much for his off-field antics and innovations, as he proposed the designated hitter, interleague play and World Series night games. Finley also introduced baseball to Charlie O the mule, Harvey the mechanical rabbit, white cleats, colorful uniforms and more.

Ray Fosse
Oakland A's 1973-75, 1985-2021
Inducted Aug. 7, 2022

Ray Fosse blazed a unique trail to A's immortality. It began with three years as a player from 1973-75 and concluded with 37 seasons in the front office, including 36 as a broadcaster. Fosse was a catcher for the A's World Champion teams in 1973 and 1974 and he returned to Oakland in 1985 in a front office role. He moved into the radio booth in 1986 and was a mainstay on A's radio and television broadcasts until passing away following the 2021 season.

Jimmie Foxx
Philadelphia A's 1925-35
Inducted Aug. 22, 2021

Jimmie Foxx did not finish his senior year of high school as he went to spring training with the Philadelphia A's in 1925 and made his Major League debut later that year at the age of 17. He would go on to hit 302 home runs in 11 seasons as an Athletic, a franchise record that stood for 61 years. Foxx earned back-to-back MVP awards from 1932-33 and a Triple Crown in 1933. He represented the A's in the first three All-Star Games from 1933-35 and was a World Champion in 1929 and 30.

Jason Giambi
Oakland A's 1995-2001, 09
Inducted Aug. 6, 2023

Jason Giambi was a key presence both on and off the field in eight seasons with the A's. He hit .300 with 198 home runs, 715 RBI and a .406 on-base percentage in 1,036 games as an Athletic, earning American League Most Valuable Player honors in 2000 and AL All-Star honors in 2000-01. Giambi concluded his playing time with the A's as the only .300 career hitter in Oakland history and his leadership led to a relaxed clubhouse atmosphere that remained long after his playing days.

Robert "Lefty" Grove
Philadelphia A's 1925-33
Inducted Aug. 22, 2021

Lefty Grove pitched for nine seasons with the Philadelphia A's, leading the league in strikeouts seven times, ERA five times and wins four times. He won the pitching Triple Crown by leading the league in wins, ERA and strikeouts in back-to-back seasons from 1930-31. Grove capped that streak by going 31-4 with a 2.06 ERA and 175 strikeouts in 1931 to earn American League MVP honors. He was a member of the A's back-to-back World Champions in 1929-30 and was a 1933 All-Star.

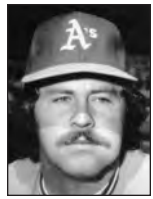

Walter A. Haas, Jr.
Oakland A's 1981-95
Inducted Sept. 21, 2019

Walter A. Haas, Jr. purchased the A's following the 1980 season and during his 15 years as owner, Oakland won five American League West titles, three AL Pennants and the 1989 World Championship. The A's set franchise records for attendance five times, but Haas will be remembered just as much for his commitment to the community and staying in the background while bright young innovators grew the A's reputation to one of the best in baseball.

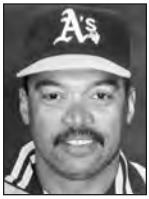

Rickey Henderson
Oakland A's 1979-84, 89-93, 94-95, 98
Inducted Sept. 5, 2018

Raised in Oakland and drafted by the A's, Rickey Henderson went on to become the greatest player in Oakland A's history and one of the greatest leadoff hitters of all time. He played 14 of his 25 seasons in an Oakland uniform and finished his career in 2003 as the all-time leader in stolen bases (1,406), runs scored (2,295) and walks (2,190). Henderson was a six-time All-Star with the A's, AL MVP in 1990 and a member of the 1989 A's World Champions.

Jim "Catfish" Hunter
Kansas City A's 1965-67; Oakland A's 1968-74
Inducted Sept. 5, 2018

Jim "Catfish" Hunter was the anchor of the A's teams that won three consecutive World Championships from 1972 to 1974. He had four straight 20-win seasons with Oakland, including a career-high 25 victories in 1974 when he won the AL Cy Young. Hunter was a six-time All-Star with the A's and tossed the first perfect game in Oakland history on May 8, 1968. He pitched three seasons in Kansas City and seven in Oakland and was inducted to the National Hall of Fame in 1987.

Reggie Jackson
Kansas City A's 1967; Oakland A's 1968-75, 87
Inducted Sept. 5, 2018

"Mr. October" was born in 1973 when Reggie Jackson earned World Series MVP honors as the A's won their second of three straight World Championships. He was also named AL MVP that year after leading the league in runs, home runs and RBI. Jackson made his debut with the Kansas City A's in 1967, spent the next eight seasons with Oakland and then concluded his 21-year Hall of Fame career with the A's in 1987. He played in six All-Star Games in an Oakland uniform.

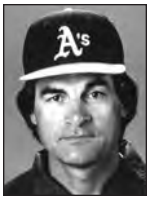

Bob Johnson
Philadelphia A's, 1933-42
Inducted Aug. 6, 2023

Bob Johnson played 10 of his 13 seasons in the majors with the Philadelphia A's from 1933-42 where he was a five-time All-Star. His 997 runs scored were a franchise record until Rickey Henderson broke the mark in 1993. Johnson slugged 20 or more home runs and scored 90 or more runs in each of his first nine seasons and had seven consecutive 100-RBI seasons from 1935-41. He finished his A's career with a .298 average, 252 home runs and 1,040 RBI in 1,459 games.

Carney Lansford
Oakland A's 1983-92
Inducted Aug. 6, 2023

The second in a line of great Oakland third basemen, Carney Lansford was an All-Star in 1988, a World Champion in 1989 and a key cog in the A's teams that won three straight pennants from 1988-90 and an AL West title in 1992. He set an Oakland record with a .336 batting average in 1989 and then went on to hit .455 in the ALCS and .438 in the World Series win over the Giants. Lansford was also a stand-out defensively and led AL third basemen in fielding in 1987, 88 and 90.

Tony La Russa
Oakland A's 1986-95
Inducted Sept. 21, 2019

Tony La Russa managed the A's for 10 seasons from 1986 to 1995. Under his guidance, the A's won four American League West titles, three consecutive AL Pennants from 1988 to 1990 and the World Championship in 1989. La Russa won 798 games during his tenure with Oakland, including 104 in 1988 when he was named AL Manager of the Year. He would garner the honor again in 1992 and was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 2014.

Keith Lieppman
Oakland A's 1971-present
Inducted Aug. 7, 2022

Keith Lieppman grew up in Missouri in the 1960's attending Kansas City A's games and would end up spending over 50 years with the club after it moved to Oakland. He played for nine seasons in the minors from 1971-79, managed for eight from 1980-87 and then served for more than 25 years as Director of Player Development. In his roles, he tutored many of the players that would win 11 American League West titles and make 15 playoff appearances from 1988-2020.

Connie Mack
Philadelphia A's 1901-54
Inducted Aug. 22, 2021

Connie Mack managed the A's for 50 seasons from 1901-50 and was part-owner of the club for all 54 seasons in Philadelphia. Under his leadership, the A's would win five World Championship and nine American League Pennants. He built two dynasties, winning back-to-back World Series in 1910-11 as well as 1913, and then did it again in 1929-30. Known for managing in a suit, with a derby or bowler in place of a baseball cap, the A's won 3,582 games with Mack at the helm.

Mark McGwire
Oakland A's 1986-97
Inducted Sept. 21, 2019

Mark McGwire played 12 seasons with Oakland and hit 363 home runs, breaking the franchise record in 1996. He was named to nine American League All-Star teams, including six straight beginning in 1987 when he was named AL Rookie of the Year after hitting 49 home runs. He earned the AL Gold Glove for first basemen in 1990 and hit 52 home runs in 1996. The A's reached the Postseason four times with McGwire, highlighted by a World Championship in 1989.

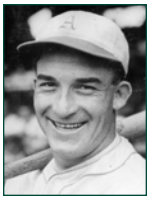

Eddie Plank
Philadelphia A's 1901-14
Inducted Aug. 22, 2021

Eddie Plank was a member of the original 1901 Philadelphia A's and in 14 seasons as Athletic, he won 284 games, started 459, completed 362, had 59 shutouts and struck out 1,985, all franchise records that still stand. He never led the American League in wins, strikeouts or ERA but was always one of the top pitchers in the game, earning him a spot in the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1946. Plank's tenure with the A's included six AL Pennants and three World Championships.

Joe Rudi
Kansas City A's 1967;
Oakland A's 1968-76, 82
Inducted Aug. 7, 2022

The A's reached the World Series three straight years from 1972-74 but winning those series required clutch performances, and Joe Rudi delivered. He made one of the greatest catches in World Series history in 1972 against the Reds and then hit .333 with four RBI in both 1973 against the Mets and 1974 against the Dodgers. Rudi won three consecutive Gold Gloves from 1974-76, was a three-time All-Star and finished second in American League MVP balloting in 1972 and 1974.

Al Simmons
Philadelphia A's 1924-32; 40-41; 44
Inducted Aug. 22, 2021

Al Simmons was a major factor in the A's three consecutive American League pennant winning clubs from 1929-31, hitting .346 with 92 home runs and 450 RBI. He led the AL in RBI in 1929 and then won back-to-back batting titles in 1930 and 31. Simmons hit .341 or better in seven consecutive seasons from 1925-31 and had a .356 average in 12 seasons with Philadelphia. He drove in at least 100 runs in each of his first nine seasons with the A's and had at least 200 hits five times.

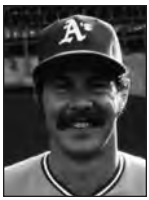

Roy Steele
Oakland A's 1968-2005, 07-08
Inducted Aug. 6, 2023

For four decades, fans were blessed with "the voice of God" at the Coliseum. Roy Steele joined the A's as their public address announcer in 1968, their inaugural season in Oakland, and would miss just five games over the next 38 years before continuing in a part-time role over the next three seasons. He worked six World Series and an All-Star Game, and his booming bartitone introduced players from the Mustache Gang to Billy Ball, the Bash Brothers and Moneyball.

Dave Stewart
Oakland A's 1986-92, 95
Inducted Sept. 5, 2018

Born in Oakland and a graduate of St. Elizabeth High School, Dave Stewart spent six seasons in the majors with three teams before breaking through with the A's. He joined Oakland in 1986 and would go on to win 20 games in four consecutive seasons from 1987-90. The big-game pitcher went 8-3 with a 2.22 ERA in 14 postseason starts for Oakland, including two wins in the 1989 World Series when he earned MVP honors in the A's sweep of the Giants.

Gene Tenace
Oakland A's 1969-76
Inducted Aug. 6, 2023

Gene Tenace played eight seasons in an Oakland uniform and reached the postseason five times. He began the A's run of three consecutive World Championships from 1972-74 by earning MVP honors in the 1972 World Series against the Reds after hitting four home runs and driving in nine of the A's 16 runs. Tenace was an All-Star in 1975, had four straight 20-homer seasons from 1973-76 and walked 100 or more times in three straight seasons from 1973-75.

Steve Vucinich
Oakland A's 1968-2021
Inducted Aug. 7, 2022

The one constant in the A's first 54 years in Oakland was Steve Vucinich. The A's have been erased like a blackboard, rebuilt and then erased again. But Vuc has marked the time. From the first batter in Oakland history, Bert Campaneris, to the most recent acquisitions, Yan Gomes and Josh Harrison, Steve has known them all. He joined the organization as a ballboy in 1968, moved to the visiting clubhouse in 1974 and then returned to the home clubhouse as equipment manager in 1994.

George "Rube" Waddell
Philadelphia A's 1902-07
Inducted Aug. 22, 2021

A fan favorite at the turn of the century not only for his skills on the mound but for his eccentricities that earned him the nickname Rube, George Waddell pitched six seasons for the Philadelphia A's from 1902-07. He led the AL in strikeouts in each of those six campaigns and won the pitching Triple Crown in 1905 with a 27-10 record, a 1.48 ERA and 287 strikeouts. Waddell fanned a career-high 349 batters in 1904 and his 24 wins in 1902 led the A's to their first AL Pennant.

1972 AMERICAN LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

Forty-one years after the Philadelphia Athletics won the American League Pennant, the Oakland A's recorded the organization's next pennant with a hard fought three games to two triumph over Detroit. It was the first time in the four-year history of the ALCS that the playoffs had gone more than three games. The A's used superb pitching, scoring just a total of 13 runs in the five games, but allowing only 10. The series also saw a near brawl between Tigers manager Billy Martin and A's shortstop Campy Campaneris, who threw his bat at Tiger hurler Lerrin LaGrow after being hit by a pitch.

In Game 1, the Tigers scored a run in the top of the 11th inning on an Al Kaline home run to take a 2-1 lead but Gonzalo Marquez tied the game in the bottom of the inning on a pinch-hit RBI single. A Kaline throwing error on the play allowed Gene Tenace to score the winning run. ALCS MVP Blue Moon Odom tossed a three-hit shutout in a 5-0 A's win in Game 2. Campaneris had three hits, two runs and two steals but was suspended for the remainder of the playoffs by American League President Joe Cronin after the bat throwing incident. Joe Coleman blanked the A's 3-0 on seven hits in Game 3 and the Tigers won 4-3 in 10 innings in Game 4. The A's scored two runs in the top of the 10th for a 3-1 lead but the Tigers scored three times in the bottom of the 10th, including the game-winning single by Jim Northrup. In Game 5, Vida Blue pitched four innings of shutout relief to pick up the save for Odom. Gene Tenace's two-out RBI single in the fourth inning scored George Hendrick with the winning run.

1972 WORLD SERIES

The A's win their first World Championship in Oakland, the first for the Athletics franchise since 1930, defeating Cincinnati, four games to three. Six of the seven games are decided by one run and Gene Tenace picks up the offensive slack for Reggie Jackson who misses the entire series after pulling a hamstring in the ALCS. Tenace hits .348 with four home runs and nine RBI in the seven games to earn World Series MVP honors.

Tenace homered in his first two at bats of the series, hitting a two-run homer in the second and a solo shot in the fifth to lead the A's to a 3-2 win in Game 1. Catfish Hunter tossed 8 2/3 innings of six-hit, one-run baseball in Game 2 before yielding to Rollie Fingers who got the final out in the A's 2-1 win. Joe Rudi homered and made a spectacular catch off the bat of Denis Menke in the ninth. After a rainout in Oakland, the Reds won Game 3, 1-0 on a combined three-hitter by Jack Billingham and Clay Carroll. In Game 4, the A's trailed 2-1 entering the bottom of the ninth before scoring twice on pinch hit RBI singles by Don Mincher and Angel Mangual to take a 3-1 lead in the series. The Reds scored once in the eighth and once in the ninth off Rollie Fingers to win Game 5, 5-4 and then won 8-1 in Game 6 to even the series at three games each. In Game 7, the score was tied at one after five innings when Tenace delivered a RBI double to give the A's the lead. Sal Bando followed with a RBI double and Rollie Fingers pitched two scoreless innings for the save.

1973 AMERICAN LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

The A's win their second consecutive American League Pennant, defeating Baltimore three games to two. It was the second consecutive year that the ALCS had gone the maximum five games after having been decided in three games each year previously. In a rematch of the 1971 ALCS, it was pitching again that was the key, this time for the A's. Five of the six A's pitchers had ERAs under 2.00 for the series.

Jim Palmer tossed a five-hit shutout to defeat the A's 6-0 in Game 1 but the A's evened the series with a 6-3 win in Game 2. Sal Bando homered twice off Dave McNally and Campy Campaneris and Joe Rudi also homered for the A's. The A's won Game 3, 2-1 in 11 innings as both Ken Holtzman and Mike Cuellar went the distance. Holtzman allowed just three hits and Cuellar had allowed just three before Campaneris homered to lead off the bottom of the 11th. The A's appeared to have the series locked up in Game 4 as they had a 4-0 lead after six innings. Baltimore then scored four times off Vida Blue in the seventh and once off losing pitcher Rollie Fingers in the eighth for a 5-4 win. ALCS MVP Catfish Hunter then tossed a five-hit shutout in Game 5 as the A's won 3-0 to clinch the series.

1973 WORLD SERIES

The A's win their second consecutive World Championship, winning Games 6 and 7 to defeat the New York Mets, four games to three. Reggie Jackson was named MVP of the series after hitting .310 with a home run and six RBI and Ken Holtzman was the winning pitcher in two of the A's four victories. The series also featured the "firing" of Mike Andrews by A's owner Charlie Finley after his two 12th-inning errors in Game 2 helped the Mets to a 10-7 win. Andrews did make another appearance in the series, grounding out as a pinch hitter in Game 4.

Holtzman picks up the win in the A's 2-1 victory in Game 1. The A's collect just three hits off Mets starter Jon Matlack but all come in the third inning as Holtzman doubles and scores on an error and Joe Rudi has a RBI single. The Mets score four runs off Rollie Fingers in the 12th inning of Game 2 to defeat the A's 10-7, but only one run was earned as Andrews committed two errors. Game 3 went 11 innings but the A's won 3-2 on a RBI single by Campy Campaneris in the top of the 11th. The A's lost Game 4, 6-1 as Rusty Staub was a perfect 4-for-4 to even the series at two games apiece. Jerry Koosman and Tug McGraw then combined to three-hit the A's in a 2-0 win in Game 5 but the A's came back to win the final two games in Oakland. In Game 6, Reggie Jackson doubled twice, singled and drove in two runs in the A's 3-1 victory. The A's had gone the entire series without a home run before Campaneris hit a two-run home run in the third inning in Game 2. Jackson added a two-run homer later in the inning and Darold Knowles retired Wayne Garrett with runners on first and third in the ninth to save the A's 5-2 win.

1974 AMERICAN LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

The A's and Orioles square off in the American League Championship Series for the third time in the last four years and the A's win their third straight American League Pennant, defeating the Orioles three games to one. Pitching was the key as Vida Blue, Ken Holtzman and Blue Moon Odom combined for 21.1 innings of scoreless pitching. Ray Fosse paced the A's offense with a .333 batting average, one home run and three RBI.

The A's lose Game 1 of the series, 6-3 as Paul Blair, Brooks Robinson and Bobby Grich all homer off A's starter Catfish Hunter. Ken Holtzman gets the A's back on track in Game 2 with a five-hit shutout in the A's 5-0 win and Ray Fosse adds three hits and three RBI. Game 3 is a pitchers duel between ALCS MVP Vida Blue and Jim Palmer and Blue comes out on the winning end when Sal Bando hits a solo home run in the fourth inning for the only run of the game. Palmer would allow just three other hits but Blue allowed just two and did not walk a batter. Jim Hunter tosses seven scoreless innings in Game 5 and A's pitchers extend their scoreless streak to 30 innings before Rollie Fingers allows a run in the ninth in the A's 2-1 win. The A's collect just one hit but walk 11 times.

1974 WORLD SERIES

The A's win their third consecutive World Championship to become the first team to win at least three straight since the New York Yankees won five straight, 1949-53. The A's defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers in five games in a series where four of the five games were decided by a 3-2 score. Bert Campaneris hit .353 in the series and Joe Rudi topped the A's with four RBI. World Series MVP Rollie Fingers had a win and two saves while posting a 1.93 ERA and the A's used just five pitchers the entire series.

The A's open the series with a 3-2 win as Rollie Fingers pitched 4.1 innings of relief for the win before Catfish Hunter comes on to strike out Joe Ferguson in the bottom of the ninth with the tying run at first base. The Dodgers even the series with a 3-2 win in Game 2 as Don Sutton shuts out the A's on four hits over the first eight innings. Joe Rudi has a two-run single in the ninth but the A's rally falls short. Hunter starts Game 3 and kept the Dodgers off the board over the first seven innings in a 3-2 win. Ken Holtzman is the winning pitcher in the A's 5-2 win in Game 4 and he also contributes to the A's offense with a solo home run in the third inning. The A's trailed 2-1 entering the bottom of the sixth but score four times, highlighted by Jim Holt's two-run pinch hit single. Rollie Fingers clinches his series MVP honors by pitching two scoreless innings for the save in the A's 3-2 win in Game 5. Joe Rudi homers to lead off the seventh inning to break a 2-2 tie.

1990 AMERICAN LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

The A's sweep Boston in the American League Championship Series for the second time in the last three years and become the first team since the 1976-78 New York Yankees to win three straight pennants. The A's pitching staff held the Red Sox to four runs, one in each game, while the offense hit .299 with no home runs. Dave Stewart picked up two wins and posted a 1.13 ERA to earn ALCS MVP honors and Terry Steinbach (.455), Carney Lansford (.438) and Mike Gallego (.400) all hit .400.

Dave Stewart and Roger Clemens engaged in a pitchers duel in Game 1 and when Clemens left after six innings, the A's trailed 1-0. The A's then scored nine runs off the Sox bullpen, including seven in the ninth, to win 9-1. Rickey Henderson had three RBI, Lansford and Steinbach had three hits each and Stewart allows one run in eight innings. Boston again took a 1-0 lead in Game 2, but the A's scored four unanswered runs this time, tying the game on a Harold Baines RBI single in the fourth and taking the lead on a Baines ground out in the seventh. The series moves to Oakland for Game 3 and starts in a familiar way as Boston scores a run in the second before the A's score twice in the fourth and sixth innings to win 4-1. The A's finally score first in Game 4, scoring three times in the second highlighted by a two-run double by Mike Gallego. Dave Stewart pitches eight scoreless innings before allowing a run in the ninth and Rick Honeycutt gets the final three outs for the save in the A's 3-1 win.

2006 AMERICAN LEAGUE DIVISION SERIES

The A's returned to postseason play for the fifth time in seven years and won a postseason series for the first time since the 1990 ALCS by sweeping Minnesota three games to none in the ALDS. They snap a six-series postseason losing streak and a nine-game losing streak in potential postseason clinching games, which was the longest such streak in Major League history. The A's batted .245 in the series and compiled a 2.33 ERA while outscoring the Twins 16-7. Frank Thomas led the A's with a .500 batting average and two home runs and Marco Scutaro topped the club with six RBI.

The A's win Game 1 in Minnesota, 3-2 as Barry Zito allows just one run on four hits in eight innings for the win. Frank Thomas homers and Marco Scutaro adds a RBI double in the second inning and Zito takes a two-hit shutout into the seventh inning before allowing a home run to Rondell White. Thomas homers again in the ninth inning for an important insurance run as Huston Street allows a run in the bottom of the ninth but gets the save. The A's win Game 2 by a 5-2 score. Oakland scores twice in the fifth inning on a Scutaro RBI double and a Jason Kendall RBI single, but Esteban Loaiza allows back-to-back home runs to Michael Cuddyer and Justin Morneau in the sixth inning. Mark Kotsay then hits a two-run inside-the-park home run in the seventh inning to give the A's the lead for good. The series moves to Oakland for Game 3 and the A's complete the sweep with an 8-3 win. Scutaro doubles twice and has four RBI and Milton Bradley and Eric Chavez homer. Dan Haren allows two runs in six innings for the win.

The A's lose to the Detroit Tigers three games to two in their first postseason appearance in six years. It was the A's sixth ALDS appearance in the last 13 years and their fifth loss, with all the losses going the full five games. The A's pitching staff compiled a 2.89 ERA and walked just seven batters in the five-game series, but the offense hit just .194 and scored 11 runs in the five games. Yoenis Céspedes hit safely in all five games and paced the A's offense with a .316 batting average.

The A's lose Game 1 in Detroit, 3-1. Coco Crisp leads off the game with a home run but that is the only run Justin Verlander would allow in seven innings. Jarrod Parker allows a run in the first on a double play, an unearned run in the third and an Alex Avila home run in the fifth. The A's fall behind two games to zero with a 5-4 loss in Game 2. Cliff Pennington breaks a 1-1 tie with a RBI single in the seventh but Sean Doolittle allows two unearned runs in the bottom of the seventh to put Detroit ahead 3-2. The A's then score twice in the eighth when Céspedes scores on a wild pitch and Josh Reddick homers, but the Tigers tie the game in the eighth and win it on a Don Kelly sacrifice fly off Grant Balfour in the ninth. The series moves to Oakland for Game 3 where Brett Anderson combines with three A's relievers on a four-hit, 2-0 shutout. Céspedes has a RBI single in the first and Seth Smith homers in the fifth. In Game 4, the A's trail 3-1 entering the bottom of the ninth before scoring three times to send the series to a fifth game. Smith ties the game with a two-run double and scores two outs later on a Crisp RBI single. The A's then lose Game 5 in Oakland 6-0 as Verlander tosses a four-hit shutout. Parker makes his second start of the series and loses for the second time, allowing four runs on seven hits in 6.1 innings.

The A's face Detroit in the ALDS for the second consecutive year and lose three games to two for the second consecutive year. Oakland won two of the first three games but then lost two straight to fall to 1-12 in potential clinch games since 2000, including 0-6 in Game 5's. The A's pitching staff compiled a 3.48 ERA and held the Tigers to a .235 batting average, but the offense hit just .217 and struck out 57 times in the five games. The A's lose Game 1 in Oakland, 3-2. Bartolo Colón allows three runs in the first inning but those were the only runs he would allow in six innings of work. Max Scherzer blanks the A's on one hit over the first six innings before Céspedes hits a two-run home run in the seventh for the A's only runs of the game. Oakland evens the series at 1-1 when Sonny Gray and Grant Balfour combine on a four-hit, 1-0 shutout in Game 2. Gray tosses eight innings and allows all four of the hits. Justin Verlander tosses seven shutout innings for the Tigers before Stephen Vogt wins the game with a walk-off RBI single off Rick Porcello in the bottom of the ninth. The series moves to Detroit for Game 3, which the A's win, 6-3. Jarrod Parker has a 3-0 lead when he allows three runs in the bottom of the fourth, but the A's take the lead for good when Brandon Moss homers with one out in the fifth. Josh Reddick and Seth Smith also homer in the game. The A's lose Game 4 by an 8-6 margin. Dan Straily had a 3-0 lead before allowing a three-run home run to Jhonny Peralta in the bottom of the fifth. Coco Crisp delivered a RBI single in the seventh to give the A's a 4-3 lead but Sean Doolittle allowed two runs in the bottom of the inning for the blown save. The A's load the bases with no outs in the eighth but are unable to score and the Tigers score three times in the bottom of the eighth to put the game away. The series concludes in Oakland when Verlander and Joaquin Benoit combine on a three-hit shutout in a 3-0 A's loss. Sonny Gray makes his second start of the series and allows three runs in five innings for the loss.

The A's travel to Kansas City in their first appearance in the American League Wild Card one-game playoff and lose to the Royals in 12 innings by a score of 9-8. Brandon Moss hits a two-run home run in the first inning and a three-run home run in the A's five-run sixth inning to set an Athletics postseason record with five RBI. The A's take a 7-3 lead into the eighth inning, but the Royals score three times off Jon Lester to pull to within one. 2020 AMERICAN LEAGUE WILD CARD SERIES

The A's returned to the postseason for the third consecutive year and defeated the Chicago White Sox two games to one in the best-of-three American League Wild Card series. The series win was the A's first in the postseason since sweeping Minnesota in the 2006 ALDS. Oakland hit just .194 in the series but out-scored the White Sox 12-11 while compiling a 3.67 ERA. Rookie catcher Sean Murphy went 3-for-8 with a home run and two RBI and Jake Diekman pitched in all three games without allowing a run.

Chicago starter Lucas Giolito retired each of the first 18 Oakland batters in Game 1 en route to a 4-1 win, which extended the A's postseason losing streak to an Athletics record-tying six games. Jesús Luzardo started for Oakland and took the loss, allowing three runs on six hits in 3.1 innings. The A's evened the series with a 5-3 victory in Game 2 after Chris Bassitt allowed just one run in seven innings of work for the win. Oakland scored two unearned runs in the first inning and increased their lead to 4-0 when Marcus Semien hit a two-run home run in the second. Closer Liam Hendriks came in with no outs in the eighth and allowed two runs in 1.2 innings before Diekman recorded the final out with the bases loaded in the ninth. The A's then snapped their Major League record nine-game losing streak in winner-take-all postseason games with a 6-4 victory in Game 3. Oakland trailed 3-0 after three innings but then scored four times in the fourth on a two-run home run by Murphy and back-to-back bases loaded walks by Mark Canha and Matt Olson. Chad Pinder added a two-run single in the fifth, Frankie Montas allowed a run in 2.0 innings of relief for the win, and Hendriks struck out the final three batters for the save.

The A's faced division rival Houston in their first neutral-site postseason series at Dodger Stadium, but lost the American League Division Series three games to one. Each team hit 12 home runs in the four-game series as the A's set franchise record for home runs hit and home runs allowed in a postseason series. The pitching staff compiled a 7.46 ERA, which was the A's highest in a postseason series of more than one game. Marcus Semien hit .533 and had a .611 on-base percentage, which set an Athletics record for highest on-base percentage in a single postseason series.

The A's took a 3-0 lead in Game 1 on a two-run home run by Khris Davis in the second inning and a solo home run by Sean Murphy in the third but would go on to lose 10-5. Oakland starter Chris Bassitt allowed three runs in the fourth and J.B. Wendelken was charged with the blown save and loss when he surrendered four unearned runs in the fifth. The A's again scored first in Game 2 on a solo home run by Davis but Sean Manaea allowed four runs in 4.1 innings in the A's 5-2 loss. Oakland's lone win came in Game 3 when they tied an Athletics postseason record with five home runs en route to a 9-7 win. The A's took a 4-2 lead into the bottom of the fifth but the Astros scored five times, including twice off Oakland starter Jesús Luzardo. Chad Pinder then hit a three-run home run in the seventh inning and added a sacrifice fly in the eighth, and Liam Hendriks closed out the game with three scoreless innings of relief for the win. For the fourth time in the series, the A's scored first in Game 4 but would go on to lose, 11-6. Ramón Laureano hit a three-run home run in the second and added a solo shot in the fifth, but Houston scored five times in the fourth off Oakland starter Frankie Montas, and twice each in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings.

DURING THE SPRING

The A's and Giants began playing Spring Training games in the Bay Area in 1983 and have played at least one game in Oakland or San Francisco every year except for 2000, 2021 and 2022. Oakland is 50-44-2 (.521) in those games, which includes 21-17 (.553) in the Coliseum, 17-20-2 (.436) at Oracle Park and 12-7 (.632) at Candlestick Park. The A's have won 17 series, lost 14 and split seven. From 2004-19, the two clubs played once in Oakland and twice in San Francisco, with the exception of 2014 when the game in Oakland was rained out. In 2020 and 2023, the two teams played once in each city. There have been four three-game sweeps, with the A's winning all three meetings in 1989 and 2019 and the Giants taking all three in 2011 and 2017.

MINOR LEAGUE FIELD STAFF

JIM EPPARD

Minor League Hitting Coordinator

Originally drafted by the A's in the 13th round of the 1982 draft out of Cal, Jim Eppard rejoined the A's in 2016 as the organization's minor league hitting coordinator and has served in that role ever since. Prior to that, he spent two seasons as assistant hitting coordinator for Los Angeles (AL) after serving as the club's hitting coach from May 15, 2012, through the end of the 2013 season.

Before coaching the big league squad, he served as hitting coach at Triple-A Salt Lake for nine-plus seasons from 2003-12. Prior to joining the Angels organization, he spent nine seasons in the Rockies minor league system as hitting coach for Single-A Central Valley (1994) and Triple-A Colorado Springs (2000-02) and as manager at three different Rockies affiliates from 1995-99. In 1997, Eppard led the Short-Season Portland Rockies to a Northwest League Championship and was named Northwest League Manager of the Year.

As a player, he spent 12 years in pro baseball, including four as a Major Leaguer with the Angels and Blue Jays. He hit .281 in 82 career Major League games and is a lifetime .310 hitter in 1,199 minor league games, winning four minor league batting titles in four different leagues.

Jim lives in Rapid City, S.D., with his wife Lou Ann. They have a daughter, Hannah, who works as a hydrogeologist in Tucson, Ariz.

GIL PATTERSON

Minor League Pitching Coordinator

Gil Patterson returns for the ninth season of his third stint as the A's minor league pitching coordinator after spending the previous three seasons in similar roles with the New York Yankees (2013-15). He previously held this position with the A's in 1996 and from 2008-12. Prior to his second stint with the A's, he spent three years coaching in the Yankees minor league system with the GCL Yankees (2006-07) and Triple-A Columbus (2005).

He has also served as Toronto's bullpen coach in 2001 and its pitching coach from 2002-04, after serving as the Arizona minor league pitching coordinator from 1997-2000. Patterson originally joined the Oakland organization in 1991, coaching in the Arizona Rookie League in Scottsdale.
